DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-7 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

What is being suggested by the phrase "pieces of light" is not clear(see claim 1, lines 5-6; and claim 12, lines 11-12 and 28 for example) . If applicant is suggesting lights of different wavelengths, it should be stated so.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2633

5. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claims 1-3 and 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shinji et al.,(JP 08-032046 cited by applicant).

Shinji et al., in Fig. 1 for example disclose a wavelength division multiplexed optical interconnection device comprising a plurality of optical input units each comprising a plurality of optical receivers(10); a signal processing integrated circuit(11); and a plurality of optical signal output units each comprising a plurality of optical emitters(12). Also note the last paragraph of page 5 of the specification in the instant application.

Shinji et al., do not specify if the signal input units are being placed in L-shaped form or C-shaped form, and the signal output units are placed in inverted L-shaped form or C-shaped form. However, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to place the signal input units or the signal output units as in the claims because placing the signal input or output units in L, C, inverted L or C shaped forms, or any other form for that matter, is a matter of design choice or common sense, since applicant has not disclosed that placing the units as in the claims solves any stated problem or is for any particular purpose. Moreover, it could be argued that it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to place the signal input units or the signal output units as in the claims, i.e. in L, C, inverted L or C shaped forms, or any other form for that matter, since it has been held that a mere reversal of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. In re Einstein, 8 USPQ 167. Thus, claim 1 is rejected.

As to claims 2-3 and 5-7, the reference is considered to meet the subject matter of the claims.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 8-11 are allowed.

9. Claim 4 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

10. Claim 12 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

11. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The art of record taken separately or in combination fail to teach the limitations of the claims.

Conclusion

12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Kouch is cited for its teachings of a single chip monolithic WDM transmitter.
